Submit art work or just come to enjoy. The Labor Art Show is free to display your personal Labor art and free to attend. Donations will gladly be accepted to offset room rental and associated fees incurred by the Labor Art Show.

The Labor Art Show is a social art experiment designed to bring awareness to value and diversity of labor. All persons that represent labor are invited to participate, while space is available. Whether union/non-union, office worker, laborer or other labor. The Labor Art Show was created as a general education requirement project of Mike Hicks. Currently a senior at Empire State College working on a degree in labor studies.
